

Mountaineer United Soccer Club Extends Sponsorship Agreement with Leidos

Mountaineer United Soccer Club (MUSC) today announced a sponsorship renewal with Leidos (NYSE:LDOS), a FORTUNE® 500 science and technology leader headquartered in Reston, VA and with offices in Morgantown. The two-year renewal keeps Leidos as the club's official jersey sponsor for the Grassroots U6-U19 soccer league which includes both the Cheat Lake and Laurel Point based teams.

"We are grateful to have the opportunity to partner with Leidos, joining the other prestigious sports organizations associated with such a wonderful company," said Raymond Kryzak. "We look forward to connecting with a company that recognizes the value of our brand and bringing the Leidos story to the Monongalia County Soccer Community."

As the community soccer club for Monongalia County, MUSC prides itself on positioning future generations for success and healthy lifestyles. This sponsorship will help the club control costs and inspire local youth towards pursuing STEM related education activities.

Founded in 1969, Leidos is a science and technology solutions leader working to address some of the world's toughest challenges in the defense, intelligence, civil and health markets. The company is also a top employer in the Morgantown region.

"Leidos is proud to support the communities where our employees live and work," said Leidos Senior Vice President Melissa Dueñas. "Together with MUSC, we look forward to providing more kids with the opportunity to learn valuable life lessons through exercise and competition."

Leidos has long been a supporter of a variety of sports in the U.S., supporting teams that include D.C. United (soccer), the Washington Capitals (hockey), the Washington Wizards and the Washington Mystics (basketball), emerging e-sports teams Wizards District Gaming (NBA2k) and Caps Gaming (NHL 20), and numerous minor league baseball and youth soccer clubs. Last month, Leidos announced the sponsorship of NASCAR Driver Bubba Wallace.

"We are excited to continue our engagement with the Morgantown community through this partnership," said Drew Formica, site manager and director of engineering for Leidos' Morgantown facility. "Leidos is committed to growing in this community and providing ways to help future generations reach their full potential."

For more information about MUSC visit: muscvv.org

About Mountaineer United Soccer Club

Mountaineer United Soccer Club is committed to providing a long-term development plan for players from 2 to 18 years old. Through innovative pedagogical methods, players will be addressed as an individual element, made up of complex systems, to advance not only their soccer playing ability, but also their development as a human being.

Youth soccer is an individual journey within a team context, where the ball is always the focus and point of reference throughout the learning of soccer. Players will be encouraged and nurtured to be creative, and problem solvers, using the environment they are in to find solutions to the problems they face.

MUSC is more than a collection of age group teams, but a club with members, where we are all together as one club, with its single identity for all players, parents, and coaches to be proud to be a member of Mountaineer United Soccer Club

About Leidos

Leidos is a Fortune 500® technology, engineering, and science solutions and services leader working to solve the world's toughest challenges in the defense, intelligence, civil, and health markets. The company's 43,000 employees support vital missions for government and commercial customers. Headquartered in Reston, Virginia, Leidos reported annual revenues of approximately $13.7 billion for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2021. For more information, visit www.Leidos.com.